MISCONCEPTIONS ABOUT DRUMMERS

"Drumming makes you less intelligent"

There is a link between brain structure and problem solving in drummers. It allows them to move and think more quickly than others

"Anyone can play the drums"

Drumming requires proper coordination between complex movements, that only a few can do well

"Drummers are not real musicians"

Drumming requires an understanding of all aspects of music theory, and the levels of coordination are more demanding than other instruments

"Drummers are aggressive"

To keep up with the fast rhythm and depending on the music's genre, drummers have to play the drums much faster than usual
